

Simmons Bank Names Jamie Mobley Commercial Banking Executive in Searcy - May 23, 2018

SEARCY, Ark. – Simmons Bank has named Jamie Mobley the commercial banking executive in Searcy, Ark. Mobley's transition to Simmons follows 17 years of service to the Searcy community at Regions Bank, where she served as city president and commercial lender.

In addition to growing and managing her own customer portfolio, Mobley's new responsibilities include leading Searcy's loan team, organizing sales initiatives and developing new business in a variety of markets.

"Jamie is a skilled servant leader whose passion and expertise will provide great value to our customers in the area," said Rees Jones, Searcy community president. "We are delighted to welcome her to the Simmons family and look forward to seeing all she will accomplish here."

An Arkansas native, Mobley's dedication to her Searcy community extends beyond assisting residents' financial needs. She also serves in leadership roles for a host of organizations, such as the Searcy Leadership Institute, the ASU Development Council and the Day of Caring's food bank. In 2017, Mobley was elected president of Searcy's Chamber of Commerce.

Mobley brings with her additional talent in newly-recruited Morgan George, who will serve as Mobley's loan assistant.
